Hi Abigail,

I was looking at the request for reimbursement for an and I noticed two things. First, this request was not signed, so the request will need to be signed and resubmitted. Second, we have already paid for this client to have at least one of her fuel pumps replaced back in November. While I understand that having personal transportation is vital in rural areas, I also want to ensure that these very expensive requests are not regular occurrences, are made only in emergency situations when absolutely necessary, and make the most financial sense for both the client and the state.

Thanks,

Emily Kraft
